All Investments contain risk and may lose value. An investment in a business development company (BDC) is subject to credit and investment risk, leverage risk, market and valuation risk, price volatility risk, liquidity risk, interest rate risk and structural and regulatory risk. Broadly syndicated loans (BSL) involve interest rate and market risk, credit risk, default risk, liquidity, structural and legal risks. Private credit involves an investment in non-publicly traded securities which may be subject to illiquidity risk. Portfolios that invest in private credit may be leveraged and may engage in speculative investment practices that increase the risk of investment loss. High yield, lower-rated securities involve greater risk than higher-rated securities; portfolios that invest in them may be subject to greater levels of credit and liquidity risk than portfolios that do not.

References to specific securities and their issuers are not intended and should not be interpreted as recommendations to purchase, sell or hold such securities. It is not possible to invest directly in an unmanaged index.
